GASOLINE TAX
CAN'T BE USED
TO AID NEEDYSpringfield Judge Enjoins Diversion Of Funds For Relief

Springfield, Ill., June 22—(AP)—A permanent injunction blocking the use of gasoline tax money for poor relief today had further muddled the problem of taking care of the unemployed, about which House arguments over the sales tax have revolved.

Circuit Judge Lawrence E. Stone late yesterday declared unconstitutional the Meentz law and three companion measures which permitted counties to divert their one-third of the gas tax to local relief needs.

Unconstitutionality was based on the laws double appropriation, permitting the optional use of funds for highways or relief. It was upon the same ground that the Supreme Court declared void the three percent sales tax law.

The laws permitting diversion would have expired July 1 regardless, making appeals fruitless. They were passed last year at the fourth special session of the General Assembly.

The injunction case before Judge Stone was brought by the Illinois Construction Council, an organization of highway contractors, which contended that gas tax money should be used on road alone. The case had been under advisement for several months.

The special session laws permitted counties to divert their funds for direct relief or for retirement of special relief loans.

Ruling of unconstitutionality will have no effect upon funds already used for direct relief, but it will require that counties make other provision for retiring the bonds, probably through extra property taxes.

Affects 31 Counties
Wilford S. Reynolds, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, said that 31 downstate counties during June had planned to divert relief work through diverted gas taxes.

The gas tax decision created new arguments over the sales tax. To Democratic leaders it was the basis for claims that the sales tax should be rushed through the House so that positive relief steps would be taken.

Rep. Elmer J. Schmackenberg of Chicago, Republican leader, is the chief exponent of an increasing theory that rapidly improving economic conditions are removing the need for relief laws.

In the background, held on second reading in the House after passing the Senate, are the Lantz bills permitting Cook county to levy extra taxes for its unemployment relief. In effect, the bills would extend to counties under the commission form of government the authority to levy poor relief taxes now held by townships elsewhere.

House Strategy
If downstate Representatives defeat the sales tax, the strategy would be to pass the Lantz bills so that sine die adjournment would be preceded by special provision for Cook county to take care of its own problems.

Metropolitan legislators, however, would prefer to sidetrack everything but the two percent sales tax, which is now framed so that all its revenues would be used for relief the rest of this year.

The House worked more than twelve hours yesterday, quelling a few minutes of the heat wave. One of the bills passed 89 to 12, was that by Senator Arthur M. Hays, Brookfield Republican, redrafting the state's corporation laws.

STABILIZATION DISCUSSION AT LONDON SHELVEDFranco-American Agreement To Save Conference

London, June 22—(AP)—The American delegation to the world economic conference said in a statement today that the United States government feels that currency stabilization now would be untimely and possibly would "cause a violent price recession" to the detriment of the conference.

The statement said that "undue emphasis" had been placed upon proposals for temporary stabilization, and asserted that this matter was never an affair of the delegation itself but rather of the Treasury and the central banks of the United States, Great Britain and France.

The American government, the statement continued, feels "that its efforts to raise prices are the most important contribution it can make."

Simultaneously with the publication of the American statement it was authoritatively said that the conference had been saved from foundering on the rocks of stabilization as the result of an agreement by American and French representatives to postpone discussion of the stabilization question until later.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, president of the conference, who has been working night and day to save the parley from collapse was jubilant when the news was rushed to him.

John B. Crawford Laid To Rest In Franklin Cemetery

The body of John Blair Crawford was taken to Franklin Grove from Chicago at noon yesterday on a special Northwestern train, which also carried notable personages to the village for the final rites. Services were conducted at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock.

Dr. John Condon, pastor of the Lincolnwood Presbyterian church at Evanston officiated. A baggage car attached to the special train was filled with floral pieces, only a portion of which could be gotten into the church. Representatives of Chicago floral houses were present to assist in the arrangement of the beautiful pieces.

The Masonic services were conducted in the church. Glen F. Coe and W. D. Baum of Dixon having charge. The active pall-bearers were Elmer Evans, Cal King, W. W. Rice, Howard Raymond, Dr. R. Allen Griffith and C. L. Mooreman. The honorary pall-bearers were: W. L. Taylor, Arthur Frank, L. L. Cohen, J. D. Snyder, W. H. Klauer, L. H. Stevens, Charles Barkell, Martin H. Kennedy, Ray Garland, William Garfield, F. W. Robinson, P. H. Plaisted, R. C. Dearborn, W. R. Gillies and George Hull. Interment was in the Franklin Grove cemetery.

STATE OFFICER
URGES GOVT.
HELP PROJECTSays State Will Soon Require Such In Every City

Immediate institution of plans for creating and building a sewage disposal plant in Dixon under the National Employment Relief Act, rather than proceeding with highway and similar projects, was recommended to the city council by George Deveneau, Executive Secretary of the Governor's Unemployment committee, this morning after he had been taken on a trip of inspection of the recently suggested Lowell Park paving, Galena ave. and similar bridge projects.

He informed the city officials that the state of Illinois will very likely, in the near future, prohibit the deposit of sewage in the rivers of the state, and that if the city of Dixon takes advantage of the present opportunity it will effect a fine saving in the cost of erecting such a plant in view of present low costs for labor and materials and the liberal terms the federal government will allow under the emergency employment act.

Will Loan Fund
Mr. Deveneau explained that the government will loan the entire sum needed for the work on proper security if the plans are approved by the state department of public buildings, thirty per cent of which sum will be an outright gift to the city, the remainder to be amortized over a period of 30 years at three and one-half per cent interest.

He stated that at present a bill before the state legislature to prohibit sewage disposal in the streams of the state and that if it does not pass this session it is sure to be enacted at some succeeding session, and that if Dixon does not take advantage of this chance it will be forced to build its disposal plants at its own total cost when such legislation is enacted.

Other Requirements
The government will require that only local labor be employed that the 30-hour week shall prevail and that adequate living wages be paid on such project.

Both federal and state officials favor this form of public works where such conditions exist, and Mr. Deveneau intimated the outlook for immediate federal relief is better for such projects.

Following his inspection trip here, under the guidance of Commissioner Cal Tyler, and his explanation to the city officials who were called into conference by Mr. Tyler, in the absence of the mayor, Mr. Deveneau left for Rockford where he had scheduled a meeting with city officials, the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs.

Administrators Unnamed
Washington, June 22—(AP)—President Roosevelt's public works board today informed the nation that "we are proceeding as rapidly as possible" to set flowing the $3,300,000,000 appropriated for construction activities by Congress.

An official statement said "an efficient organization" to carry out the program for which funds were provided in the Industrial Recovery Bill is being set up.

Secretary Ickes, chairman of the Cabinet board, will be in charge while beneath will be the Public Works Administrator.

Colonel Donald H. Sawyer, the present temporary administrator, today moved his headquarters into the Interior Department building, and found dozens of applicants for jobs and projects in his ante-room. To those seeking funds for construction, he said the Administrator was not yet ready.

The board made clear that the Administrator of Public Works would be entirely distinct from the Industrial Control Administration under Hugh S. Johnson.

To handle applications on state, county and city projects, there will be a state administrator and state advisory board to be appointed by President Roosevelt.

The federal board, through Ickes, said it hoped to submit to the Chief Executive on his return from his vacation a list of state administrators from which he could choose.

To correct some erroneous current reports, the board added, "it may be said that not a single state Public Works Administrator has yet been appointed."

nor On His Bill

BULLETIN
Springfield, Ill., June 22—(AP)—The administration's sales tax bill barely escaped defeat in the House this afternoon when a proposal to substitute for it a general occupational tax was defeated by one vote, 73 to 72.

Springfield, Ill., June 22—(AP)—The House started consideration of amendments to the two percent sales tax bill today by rejecting a series of changes proposed by Rep. LeRoy M. Green, Rockford Republican and leader of the opposition.

No filibuster was attempted, but indications were that debates and voting on amendments would take most of the afternoon.

The first amendment by Green, tabled 56 to 48, would have cut the tax on retail sales to one per cent. The next would have given merchants an exemption of $100 a month. It lost, 74 to 50.

Debate was extensive on the third proposal, to limit the tax to a period of six months and use receipts for relief only. The vote was 79 to 61.

Benjamin Adamowski, a young Chicago Democrat, led the floor fight for the administration's bill, which has passed the Senate.

Devine Leads Fight
Many Democrats were opposing the amendments at the request of their party leaders, but have announced their intention of voting against the bill on final passage if it reaches third reading. To advance and pass the bill will require 77 votes.

John Devine of Dixon, prominent Democrat, who had refused to support the sales tax led a fight for an amendment offered by Sol Handy, Marshall Democrat, which would substitute for the administration bill a small tax on more than a hundred occupations.

This was advocated by Devine as a means of raising more funds with a smaller and less burdensome charge on the occupations taxed.

Devine is one of the downstate leaders who have deserted the administration camp during the sales tax battle.

N. W. Freight House
Robbed Last Night
The Northwestern freight house was entered presumably before midnight last night and thoroughly ransacked. It was reported today. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in the office and another window leading into the freight house was then forced open. Several packages of freight were broken open and one case of smoking tobacco taken. The prowlers opened one of the large doors of the freight house in departing, then closed it. A copy of a Denver Colo. newspaper of June 20 was found lying on the floor of the freight office this morning which led to the belief that transients had ransacked the building. Northwestern freight houses at Sterling and Rochelle have also been broken into during the past ten days.

FORMER HEAD OF HUGE BANK
GETS FREEDOMGovernment Charges Of Tax Evasion Are Held Unproven

New York, June 22—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell was acquitted today on all counts in the indictment which charged him with income tax evasion.

The jury which had heard the government charges that Mitchell, former Chairman of the National City Bank, had cheated the government in 1929 and 1930 of more than $850,000 in income taxes, took the case at 10:25 A. M. CST, yesterday.

It returned the verdict a little more than 24 hours later.

The charges against Mitchell, who for many years was one of the most powerful figures in the banking world, were briefly that he had illegally failed to report a payment of $666,666.67 from the National City company in 1929, and that he had made sham stock sales to make it appear that he had suffered such heavy income loss that he owed no tax in 1929 and 1930.

Sold Stock To Wife
The stock sale in 1929 was to Mitchell's wife, and the one in 1930 to W. D. Thornton, president of the Green Cananea Copper Company.

The jury had been instructed that it could convict or acquit on all the charges together, or could convict or acquit on any one charge.

The jury returned for instructions three times, once yesterday and twice today. It was at the conclusion of the third appearance of the jury in the courtroom that the verdict acquitting Mitchell on all counts was returned.

Mitchell leaped to his feet as he heard the words, "not guilty" pronounced in a low voice by James K. Campbell, foreman, and grabbed the hand of Max D. Steiner, his counsel. His face was fiery red, eyes filled with tears. With Steiner he left the court room while the jurors were still in the box.

Discussion Forbidden
Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard requested the jurors not to discuss the case publicly and dismissed them.

"I can't talk now—I'm too moved," Mitchell said as he roared pressed around him as he left the court room.

With Steiner, he disappeared in the ante-room where he had spent the hours waiting for the verdict.

Mitchell was variously pictured by prosecution and defense during the trial as a man who deliberately cheated the government of more than $850,000 in income taxes and as one who ruined himself in efforts to save his own companies and ease the market generally in the crash of 1929.

Owes Six Millions
During several days on the stand he himself told of borrowing millions from the Morgans to cushion the fall of National City Bank stock. It was brought out that he still owes about $6,000,000 to the Morgan firm, which holds mortgages on all his homes.

The investigation of his income tax affairs began last March when he testified before the Senate Banking committee in Washington that he sold stock to "a relative" to record a loss and so avoid paying any income tax for the year 1929.

His arrest and indictment quickly followed. It was brought out that the relative was Mitchell's wife and that he had made a similar sale, for a similar purpose, in 1930 to W. D. Thornton, president of the Green Cananea Copper Company.

Junior Band Gives
Its First Concert
The Dixon Junior Band rendered its first concert of the season last evening at the Adam Fazzl Greenland Gardens east of the city on the Blackhawk Trail. The concert was largely attended and a very pleasing program was rendered under the direction of Russell Mason. Robert Fulmer of the Dixon Civic Band furnished the vocal solo numbers. The youthful musicians gave a very good account of themselves and many were the words of praise for their efforts.

The band members were treated to refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruit-ade by their host during the program and at its conclusion.

HUNT SPANISH

Crash In Mountains
Is Unverified

Mexico City, June 22—(AP)—Civilian and governmental aviators redoubled their search today for two Spanish trans-Atlantic fliers, long overdue on a flight from Havana, after scores of men returned from a fruitless hunt in mountains southeast of here where the Spaniards were reported to have crashed.

President Rodriguez's office received information indicating the fliers, Capt. Mariano Barberan and Lieut. Jordan Collier, might have been forced south of their course by storms and had continued westward through Tabasco state over the Sierra Mountains.

In such a case they might possibly be far from Villa Hermosa, in Tabasco state, where they were last seen and the focal point of the search hitherto.

Consequently, preparations were made to extend the hunt into the states of Oaxaca and Guerrero.

A Department of Communications official last night said he had confirmed reports that the Spanish plane, Cuatro Vientos, or Four Winds, had crashed on La Malinche Mountain, that Lieut. Collier had been killed, and that his companion was seriously hurt.

The Spanish Ambassador, Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, declared, however, that the reports of the crash in Tlaxcala state, appeared untrue, and that he had made numerous attempts to certify the rumors without success.

Gen. Juan P. Azaceta, Chief of Staff, said a widespread search in the region had revealed no trace of wreckage.

CONTRACT FOR TWO MILLION
BBLs. SIGNEDPrice Of $1.44 Agreed Upon; Delivery To Start At Once

Springfield, Ill., June 23—(AP)—Ending the state's cement price war, Governor Horner today announced that a contract had been negotiated with the Marquette Cement Company of Oglesby for the purchase of two million barrels of cement at $1.44 a barrel.

Horner said the purchase was made under the Sinnett law and effected a saving of $360,000 compared with bids rejected.

The price agreement upon averages 50 cents a barrel higher than that paid by the state last year for highway construction.

It is eighteen cents under the identical bids, averaging $1.62, submitted by sixteen companies and three times rejected at the order of the Governor during the last three months.

TO RESUME ROAD WORK
The state originally asked bids for 3,300,000 barrels of cement needed this year. The two million barrel purchase, however, will permit the resumption of operations by construction companies and the employment of men on road crews.

Negotiations with the Marquette Company were conducted yesterday and today, the Governor said, with signing of the contract to permit 30,000 men to go back to work for 54 major paving outfits.

The contract made it unnecessary for Attorney General Kerner to proceed with plans for filing condemnation suits as a means of fixing a fair price for cement.

BOUGHT ON OPEN MARKET
The Sinnett law, rushed through the legislature at administration request, permitted the state to buy its supplies on the open market at not more than 90 per cent of the lowest bid rejected.

Shipments of cement to contractors are to be started immediately.

"The purchase that we have negotiated will enable the state to proceed immediately with most of the outstanding road projects scheduled for this year," Horner Horner said.

"I am informed that 300 additional men will be employed by the Marquette Company's mill at Oglesby and that they will be employed for the duration of the construction season."

Success greeted what administration officials called "one last effort" to settle the price dispute before filing condemnation suits. At the Governor's request, the Attorney General and the Highway Department made a final offer to negotiate with the manufacturing companies.

Only One Responding
The Marquette Company was the only mill to respond and the average price of $1.44, net delivered, was agreed upon.

"Officials of the Marquette Company," the Governor stated, "expressed an inclination to do their utmost to advance the state's road building program and assist in my earnest desire to reduce unemployment. As the public knows, this administration has been anxious to get the state's road building program underway so that many thousands of men could be given employment in road building and the allied industries."

In April, unemployment was said to have decreased from 13,359,000 to 12,730,000, or 4.8 per cent of those out of work regaining jobs.

"Trade union reports for May show another gain, not so large. This is the most significant of all business gains reported this spring. It is the largest since depression began."

"But unless employment gains more than this it will take nearly two years to get the unemployed back to work—and business cannot wait two years."

Search For Hamm
Kidnapers In Wis.

St. Paul, Minn., June 22—(AP)—Search for the kidnapers of William Hamm turned today to northwestern Wisconsin, where a hired automobile bearing a Missouri license was seen Tuesday.
Sheriff James Olson of Polk County, Wis., reported to Sheriff George Mueller today that the car, with a surly male occupant, stopped at a Balsam Lake filling station and asked directions to Cumberland, Wis.

The attendant made a note of the license number and said it was the same one local detectives traced to a suspected gang hangout in St. Paul.

Police Chief Thomas E. Dahill reiterated his belief occupants of the local house, who departed early Tuesday, probably had nothing to do with the seizure and release of the millionaire brewer on payment of $100,000, despite tentative identification of two of them by neighbors as Verne Sankey and Gordon Elkhorn.

First Lady and Jobless Girls Take the Trail Together

It's hard to tell who was happiest when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made a surprise visit to the camp for jobless young women at Bear Mountain Lake, N. Y., and took a tramp with the girls as pictured here. The First Lady's only disappointment was that red tape had retarded recruiting, a matter she proposed to rectify at once.

Slain Robber Is Identified Today

Peoria, Ill., June 22—(AP)—The burglar shot and killed after he had entered a home in an exclusive residence district here early yesterday was today identified as Whitey Cotton, Chicago, a former hard road worker. Frank Thompson, old resident and friend of Cotton, identified the body. He said Cotton had a wife in Bradford, Ill.

George A. Lyon, Jr., who killed Cotton, but a woman, was wounded by the robber, is improving.

Eldorado Mine Is Scene Of Bombing

Harrisburg, Ill., June 22—(AP)—A dynamite explosion at midnight tore a two-foot hole in the ground near the Dering mine at Eldorado. The blast shook Eldorado homes and buildings.

Officers found a 30-foot burnt fuse leading to the hole. Chris Galleney, mine watchman, was knocked down by the blast. The explosion was about 1100 feet from the mine and 100 feet from the powder house. Wiley Rogers, hoisting engineer, reported seeing two automobiles stop about a quarter of a mile away forty-five minutes before the blast. The first would have burned about 30 minutes in reaching the dynamite.

Yesterday John R. Fenton, General Manager of the Rex Coal Company, signed a contract with Progressive miners at Hillsboro to work the mine, which employs about 300. Officers are conducting an investigation of the blast.

Tried For Killing Expectant Mother

Chicago, June 22—(AP)—Attorneys denouncing John Minzer, 30, against a charge of murdering Miss Amelia Faill of West Frankfort, Ill., were gathering their weapons today for a battle against admitting into evidence a confession police obtained from Minzer.

The confession was to be introduced by the testimony of Sergeant Redmond Gibbons, who obtained it after the girl was found strangled with a necktie and a belt in a south side hotel Feb. 22. The girl was to become a mother.

One of the 12 jurors selected yesterday became ill during the night and a mistrial was declared today, but by agreement the eleven other jurors were retained and a twelfth selected.

Advocate Minimum Fair Wage for Wom- en and for Minors

With the passage by the Senate of S. B. 730, sponsored by Senator John M. Lee (Dem.) Chicago, providing for the establishment of minimum fair wage standards for women and minors, the Illinois League of Women Voters believes that a great step forward has been taken in social legislation. As the companion bill, H. B. 1061 put in by Rep. Howard L. Doyle of Decatur is making such rapid progress, it is hoped that the bills can be signed by the Governor next week and thus be enacted into law.

"Study of wage problems" has long been an important item on the program of the League of Women Voters," points out Mrs. Roy Jacobsen, Chairman of the League's Department of Women in Industry.

"The adequacy of the compensation for women in industrial work is the concern of everyone, for on these women rests or will rest the burden of rearing a large group of our population. Since wage rates, however expressed, are of no practical use without an opportunity to earn them, attention should be directed first to the total annual earnings of women and second to what goods and services those earning will enable the recipient to buy at current prices. Budgets should be scrutinized closely, both as to items of expenditures deemed necessary and amounts allowed.

"Among the factors which should be taken into account in determining wage rates are the following:
The scale of wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries;
the relation between wages and the cost of living; the hazards of the employment; the training and skill required; the degree of responsibility; the character and regularity of employment; inequalities in wage or treatment due to previous orders;
the ability of the industry to pay wages; the social value of an industry that does not pay a living wage."

Good Attendance For Ladies Day

Wednesday was ladies' day at the Dixon Country Club and there was a good attendance. At 1 o'clock a tempting picnic luncheon was enjoyed. A four club tournament occupied the attention of the golfers.
Mrs. Conrad Dyke, Mrs. Harold Coss, Miss Ruth, Carney and Miss
Ann Hofmann won prizes.

Miss Doris Beech Hostess at Tea

Wednesday afternoon Miss Doris Beech was hostess at a charming tea honoring Miss Ruth Chandler of Chicago. The color scheme of yellow and rose was carried out cleverly in the refreshments, favors and flowers.

LUNCHEON SERVING SIX

The Menu
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Sardine Rolls
Crab Salad Potato Chips
Sliced Peaches
Buttered Rolls Currant Jelly
Summer Dessert Coffee
Salted Nuts

Tomato Juice Cocktail
(Serving six)
3 cups tomatoes
1-2 cup water
3 tablespoons chopped green peppers
2 tablespoons chopped onions
4 celery leaves
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
1-4 teaspoon paprika
Mix ingredients. Cover and cook very slowly (simmer) 20 minutes.
Strain, cool and chill.

Toasted Sardine Rolls
18 thin slices white bread
2 tablespoons butter
1-3 cup chopped sardines
1 tablespoon salad dressing
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons finely chopped
pickles

Cream butter and add sardines, dressing, juice and pickles. Spread on thinly cut slices of fresh bread.
With sharp knife cut off crusts, roll up the slices of bread, holding in place with toothpicks. Toast and serve warm.

Crab Salad
1-1/2 cups crab
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
2-3 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
1-3 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons chopped sweet
pickles.
2-3 cup mayonnaise
Mix half the mayonnaise with rest of ingredients. Chill. Serve on lettuce, top with remaining mayonnaise.

Summer Dessert
6 slices angel food cake
1 pint mint sherbet
2 cups red raspberries
1-2 cup sugar
Mix berries and sugar. Chill.
When time to serve, arrange cake
on serving plates. Top with sherbet, spread with berries. Serve at once.

A combination of cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg and ginger makes a very good flavoring for cakes, cookies or puddings. Use twice as much cinnamon as any other one spice.

Meeting Friloha Class Monday Eve

The Friloha S. S. class of the Christian church held its regular monthly meeting Monday at the home of the Misses Hazel and Lucille Rhodes. A picnic supper was served on the lawn before the meeting with twenty-two members
and one guest attending.

The meeting was called to order
by the president, Miss Savilla Palmer, followed by all singing the class song.

Ethel Hackbarth led the devotions and read from the 14th Psalm.

Minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were given by the secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor.

The collection was received.
The Lord's prayer was repeated
by all.

At this time election of new officers was held, as follows:
President—Miss Helen McGonigle.
Treasurer—Bernice Peckham.
Secretary—Virginia Schumacker.

Librarian—Olive Boos.
During the first part of July Genevieve Reitzell and Evelyn Schumacker are being sent to the Bible conference at Eureka by the class and church. This is a wonderful opportunity and will be enjoyed immensely by both.

A motion was made to have a self-denial offering for the August meeting to be held at Savilla Palmer's home.

Mrs. Leona Clayton has invited the class to a chicken dinner to be given at her home on the 30th of June and we will all plan to be present.

The girls then held rehearsal for the play the Missionary Circle is giving on June 26th at the church and which is proving very successful.

At a late hour all departed for their homes, having spent a very enjoyable meeting.

Golden Wedding For Bickenbachs

Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Bickenbach will celebrate their golden wedding next Tuesday, June 27th at their home at 408 North 3rd street, Oregon, Ill. Ladies of the Presbyterian church will be in attendance and they will hold open house from 3:00 to 5:00, and from 7:00 to 9:00
P. M. when they will welcome all friends.

It will be remembered that Dr.
Bickenbach was a former pastor of the Dixon Presbyterian church and all Dixon friends who can come will be very welcome.

Salads Intrigue Lagging Appetites

With summer menus to plan and prepare, it is an excellent idea for the home-maker to have a few good salad recipes on hand. When your family refuses to eat very much of anything you probably will find that their appetites will be appeased by cold, crisp salads.

Half the trick of appetizing salads lies in the attractive manner in which you serve them. Your lettuce or other salad greens always must be very crisp. One way to keep lettuce crisp is to keep it wrapped in a clean, damp cloth near, never on, the ice. Rinse it in ice water and dry it carefully before you arrange it on the plates.

Chicken Salad a Favorite Chicken salad in tomato aspic is a summer favorite. Here's the way to make it.

Dissolve one package of lemon
gelatin in one-half pint of boiling tomato juice. When all the crystals are dissolved, add another half pint of cold tomato juice and a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Set the bowl in the ice box until the gelatin starts to congeal.

When the mixture is about half congealed stir in one small cupful of diced chicken, 2 tablespoons each of chopped celery, diced tomatoes and sliced cucumbers. Salt and pepper to taste and put it all back into the ice box.

When the gelatin is firm and set,
scoop it out of the bowl with a tablespoon and arrange individual portions on a bed of lettuce. If it is to be served for luncheon loosen the whole by dipping the bottom of the bowl in warm water, turn the bowl
over on a large platter of lettuce and serve at the table.

The above recipe will serve 10 with a suitable dinner salad and will serve 6 for a hearty luncheon.

Stuffed Prunes Delicious Cream cheese can be served in salads in a variety of ways. That old standby prunes stuffed with cream cheese, is a summer favorite.

You simply soak the prunes over night, cook them the next morning until they are tender, remove pits and place them on a plate in the refrigerator. When the prunes are quite cold, stuff them with small balls of cream cheese. If the cheese is hard and not easy to roll into balls, add a little sweet cream to it.
Top the stuffed prunes with a few pieces of nut meats. Arrange them on salad plates—four to a person—garnish with salad dressing and serve.

Cream cheese and pineapple salad is as popular in winter as in summer. Serve a whole ring of pineapple to each person. Place either a slice or ball of cream
cheese in the center of each ring

Meeting Happy Workers Club

The Happy Workers 4-H Club of Palmyra met at the home of Miss Mary Jane Boynton, June 20th.
The meeting was called to order
and members then answered roll and then named some dress matterial. Then there followed a discussion about other subjects to be taken up at the following meeting.

It was decided to give demonstrations of first aid. These demonstrations will be given by the club members.

After the business meeting Miss Kathryn Schaeffer played a selection on the piano; and Miss Kathryn Scholl gave a vocal solo. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Everyone enjoyed the meeting and the next one is to be held at the home of Miss Kathryn Schaeffer, June 26th.

SMART USE OF CONTRAST
Pattern 9554

Choose your favorite print and combine it with white... this frock shows you a smart way to do it!
and we think the silhouette smarter yet... shoulders broad and hips slender. As for details... don't you adore the flattering collar,
double flared sleeves and slim skirt panel that permits a semi-belted waistline. We'd like dimity lawn, swiss or a silk print with organdie
for contrast.

Pattern 9554 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 3 yards 39-inch fabric and 1 1/2 yards contrasting. Clear, diagrammed cutting and sewing instructions included with pattern.

THE NEW DEAL—WHERE WILL IT LEAD US?

Now that the smoke has cleared away at Washington, it is pretty evident that the acts of the last three months have started us off at one of the most rapid clips we ever attained.

But it isn't yet at all clear in what direction we are going.

Maybe we are heading toward socialism; maybe we are swinging off for state capitalism of a kind that will make Signor Mussolini's Fascism look watery. Nobody can tell, today, and so far nobody seems to care very much. The important thing is that we are on our way. We can figure out the goal later.

That, in fact, is one of the most interesting things about the new program. We have passed one great fork in the road—we have swung away from the free individualism of the past, and it doesn't look as if we should ever go back to it—but the main fork is still ahead of us. We still have plenty of time to decide whether we are to go on to outright socialism or whether we can build our next century of progress on a controlled, carefully regulated capitalism.

Lump together all of those amazing recovery measures—industrial control, farm relief, Muscle Shoals, inflation, mortgage relief and all the rest—and you find that we haven't definitely committed ourselves.

Capitalism gets its chance to prove that it can lay down and follow out a plan in which the interests of the average citizen will be fully protected.

The great fields of manufacturing, transportation, finance, agriculture and distribution are still held by their original owners. If they can produce a satisfactory crop during the next few years, well and good.

On the other hand, we are going to get a pretty good idea of what the federal government can do on its own hook. Is it capable of running a large, publicly-owned industry, of overseeing every sort of commercial and financial activity, of maintaining decent wage levels and stabilizing money and prices? We shall have pretty good answers to those questions in a very few years.

Meanwhile, we are still free to make our choice. We are not, at the moment, trying to go toward anything; we are trying to get away from something—the depression, low wages, unemployment, hunger, chaos, misery. Where we may fetch up, in the end, is something for the seventh son of a seventh son. Meanwhile, we are in our way.

THE WRONG REMEDY

It is not likely that the railroads' announcement of their intention to reduce basic wage rates by approximately 22 per cent will win any very large amount of public approval.

It can be granted, of course, that the railroads are pretty hard pushed financially. A great many of them need some sort of relief. Not as many of them have come out of the red during the current revival as we might like.

But this time, of all times, is a poor time for wage reductions. The nation is bending every effort today to get wages back up, to stop deflation and increase the country's purchasing power. For one of the nation's largest industries to go ahead with a far-reaching wage reduction would be little less than a catastrophe. The general public will be almost unanimous in insisting that some other form of relief for the carriers be found.

INCOME TAX PUBLICITY

One thing to be remembered in the mass of new legislation passed at Washington is the fact that the president is empowered to give publicity to income tax returns. A good many citizens are likely to hope that he takes advantage of this power.

The disclosures about income tax evasions in the Morgan investigation would not have been news at all if we had had publicity for income tax returns during the last few years. And with those disclosures in mind, it is a little hard to sympathize with those who oppose such publicity on the ground that it is an unwarranted intrusion upon the private affairs of individual citizens.

It took a Senate committee to show us that Morgan and his partners had found ways of getting along without paying income taxes. Under the new law the president himself, by a turn of the hand, could make such information automatically available from day to day.

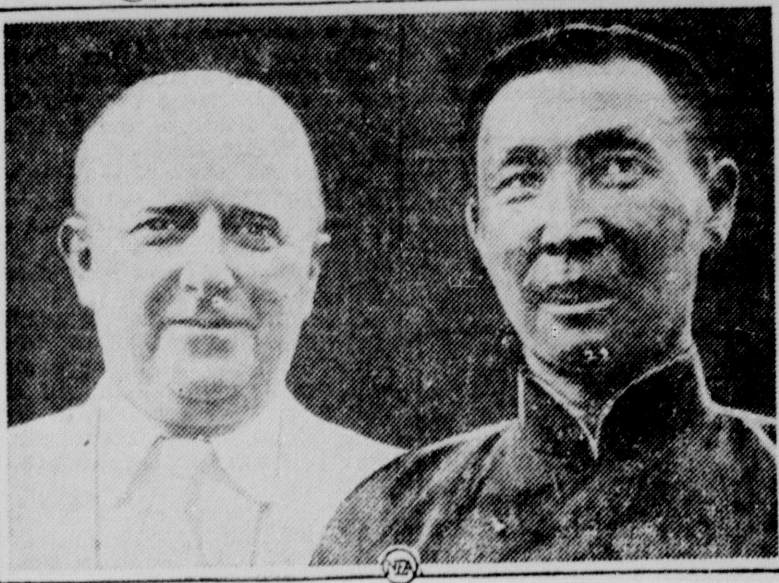

Failures is the price we pay for speed. Failures of American business enterprise, and have not been the cause of these failures.—Dr. Harold Stonier, educational director American Institute of Banking

There is a great deal of truth in the following: "To live a full and swift, even though unhealthful, life and to be speedily destroyed is better than to live healthily and long and be bored."—Dr. Dean Lewis, president American Medical Association.

Vibrations of fine music put mysterious initiative, resolution and courage into the normal individual.—Treasury Secretary Woodin, who is also a composer.

As a symptom of the development of a strong, healthy native art which can be of the highest value to America's cultural life, this observation is uncommonly interesting.

Everyday Religion

THE REBELS

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

Two kinds of rebels torment mankind, the criminal and the prophet. One rebels down, seeking to drag the race back to a lower law; the other rebels up, trying to lift society to a higher level. One is an individualist, obeying his own commandment; the other an idealist following a star visible to himself alone. One is throwback, the other a throwforward one too slow, the other too fast.

The sinner defies the established order to gain his own end. He refuses to keep step with the rest, hankering after the old life when every man was his own law. He feels the call of the wild and obeys it, regardless. He makes himself, not society, the center of the world, the pivot of life. He is our contemporary ancestor, so to put it, living by a law long since left behind.

The seer also defies the social order led by a gorgeous dream of a better day, maddened by visions of a perfect world. He sees the "looped and windowed raggedness" of

When once outside the Imp tree home, wee Scouty said, "What say we roam around this lovely forest. Monkeys may be right nearby."

"I think they're cute as they can be. They usually live up in a tree. I'd like to find a friendly one. Who'll go with me and try?"

"I will," said Dotty. "It is best if we just let our Imp friend rest. I've heard him say he sleeps for days. We cannot wait that long."

"The next best thing for us to do is search till we find something new. Gee, I can stand a real long hike. I'm feeling very strong."

"Me, too," cried Dotty. "Lead the way! I'm full of pep and full of play. Say, let's play tag. I will be it! Now, everybody run."

"In great big waves you must not hide, cause I won't want to look inside. I'll hunt, though, till I find you all. It will be heaps of fun."

"Aw," Duncy said, "I'll stay with you and help you hunt. I'm too tired to look 'round until I find a place where I can safely hide."

"When you find them, I'll gladly shout. When I do that they must come out." The others quickly disappeared. "I'm coming," Dotty cried.

She searched until she found them all. The bunch then heard a deep voice call, "I'm going to play this game with you. Look out! I'm coming, now!"

Poor Dotty trembled at the knees. She cried, "It's one of those big trees. I think it's going to chase us. We must get away, somehow."

And, sure enough, the big tree shook. Wee Scouty shortly shouted, "Look! Its legs are roots! Its arms are limbs. Oh, this will spoil our fun."

The tree would sway and then "would swing. And then it ran like everything. "Come on," yelled little Windy. "All that we can do is run."

(The monstrous tree catches Dotty in the next story).

By Arthur T. Guest

Rochelle — Joseph Kaufman, of Compton, has completed buying 200,000 pounds of wool from the farmers in a radius of one hundred miles from Rochelle. He has been busy day and night with a fleet of trucks since early last March, buying and gathering wool for the Caron Spinning Mills of Rochelle.

Charging extreme cruelty, a bill for divorce was filed in Oregon by the Rochelle law firm of Gardner & Gardner in behalf of Mrs. Janette M. Carter of Rochelle. David C. Carter was named defendant in the bill.

The Carters were married Oct. 12, 1924, at Ashton, the bill averred, and separated June 9, 1933. Mrs. Carter asks suit for alimony and custody of their 4-year-old child, Richard, in her bill.

Guy A. Baxter, son of the late Delos and Mary Baxter, died June 14, 1933, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thorp on Main street. He was the last of five sons of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Baxter. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. C. E. Gardner and Miss Maude Baxter, both of Rochelle. Brief services were held Thursday morning at Lawnridge cemetery, the Rev. Fred Nazarine officiating.

Merchandise valued at $40 was stolen June 13th from the Chicago and Northwestern railroad freight office. The thieves gained entrance by shattering a warehouse window.

Mr. Marshall Kramer is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Augusta Miller formerly of Rochelle, and her sisters, Mrs. Schryver and Mrs. Martin of Los Angeles, Calif.

Cecil Claxton who has been attending school at Jacksonville, Ill., has returned to his home here to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Unger are the parents of a daughter, born June 13.

The marriage of Miss Vivian Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cole, and Menno Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of Chana, took place at 7 P. M. Saturday, June 17th, at the home of the bride's parents in the country. Rev. F. A. Campbell of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony, and the couple was attended by Miss Bernice Biggers and Hershel Boyd of Dixon. The bride wore a gown of blue crepe.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the Rochelle Township High School graduating class of 1925.

Following a wedding trip the couple will be at home on a farm eight miles northwest of Rochelle, the homestead of Mrs. Miller's grandparents.

William Hunt is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from his duties at the Midwest Canning Corporation. Mrs. Harry O'Donnell and infant son were dismissed from the Lincoln hospital Saturday and returned to their home in Lee.

Compton—The M. E. Ladies Aid society will hold their June meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harvey P. Cook. All members are urged to attend, bringing their needles and thimbles. Mrs. Roy Swope, Mrs. Roy A. Coon and Mrs. Leslie G. Archer will also serve as hostess.

Mrs. Fred Ransom and children of Montello, Wis., are making an extended visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Miller.

Miss Leota Archer has returned to her home to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Archer, after completing her year of teaching at the Junior high school in Aurora.

Miss Ida Longbein visited Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Dennis McCoy of Aurora.

Mrs. Roy Cook entertained the members of the Five Hundred Club at her home Tuesday. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lillian Bauer, Mrs. Mable Chacon and Mrs. Amanda Florchuetz.

Miss Vera Cook returned from Knox college, Galesburg to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. William Potter and daughter of Ortonville, Minn., are visiting friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Gilmore and children visited friends and relatives here Sunday. Miss Evelyn Gilmore returned with them after spending a week visiting at their home in DeKalb.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Dimston will leave late this week to spend their summer vacation at Hayward, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohart, Jr., have taken up their residence in the Holden property.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hills are spending their annual vacation with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Campbell and husband in Chicago. They plan visiting the World's Fair while there.

Hospital Notes
Miss Vera Mae Bauer left the hospital early this week for her home after recovering from a very serious operation.

Isadore Kaufman arrived home this week after completing his second year at the University of Chicago.

Lee Center's baseball team fell in defeat before Manager Webber's Compton Club last Sunday, by the score of 18 to 11. Compton now is undisputed leader of the League, with seven straight victories and no losses, with Kakusha Park of Mendota as their closest rival, with five wins and two defeats. Loose fielding by both teams was responsible for the large number of runs.

Four of Lee Centers' runs were made in the last of the ninth when H. Dunseth hit a homer with the bags loaded. Next Sunday afternoon the Mendota Giants will play here in the eighth game of the season.

Edward Chaffee of Valparaiso, Ind., and Eugene Chace of Boise, Idaho, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilmore Monday.

A BOOK A DAY

A REAL PUZZLER BY A REAL DETECTIVE
By Bruce Catton

A singularly refreshing and straightforward detective story is "P. C. Richardson's First Case," by Sir Basil Thomson, formerly in charge of the C. I. D. at Scotland Yard.

Here we have that rarity—a detective story which presents real people involved in a crime that might actually have happened. There are no wealthy amateurs or high-browed psychologists in this; just plain, ordinary cops depending on hard work and good luck to find a murderer.

The tale has to do with the death of a lady who gets throttled in a London antique dealer's office. The antique dealer, simultaneously, is killed in a traffic accident, and a bit of faithful plodding by a young police constable finally turns up the murderer. It's as good a mystery story as you'd care to read.

"Black Moon", by Clements Ripley is a thriller of the wild and woolly school. A young New Yorker visits his sweetie on a jungle island near Haiti and finds her all involved in a complicated and murderous voodoo outfit. The yarn is exciting, though not very convincing.

Another woolly one is "The Shanghai Bund Murders," by Van Wyck Mason. In this one an American intelligence officer in Shanghai gets on the trail of a foul plot by which a Chinese war lord is going to sack Shanghai and slaughter all its white inhabitants. There's a murder or two by way of preliminary, and the officer almost manages to get himself tortured to death, but in the end—did you guess it?—he triumphs. This one might keep you awake nights and it might not. It's not bad if you aren't too critical.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

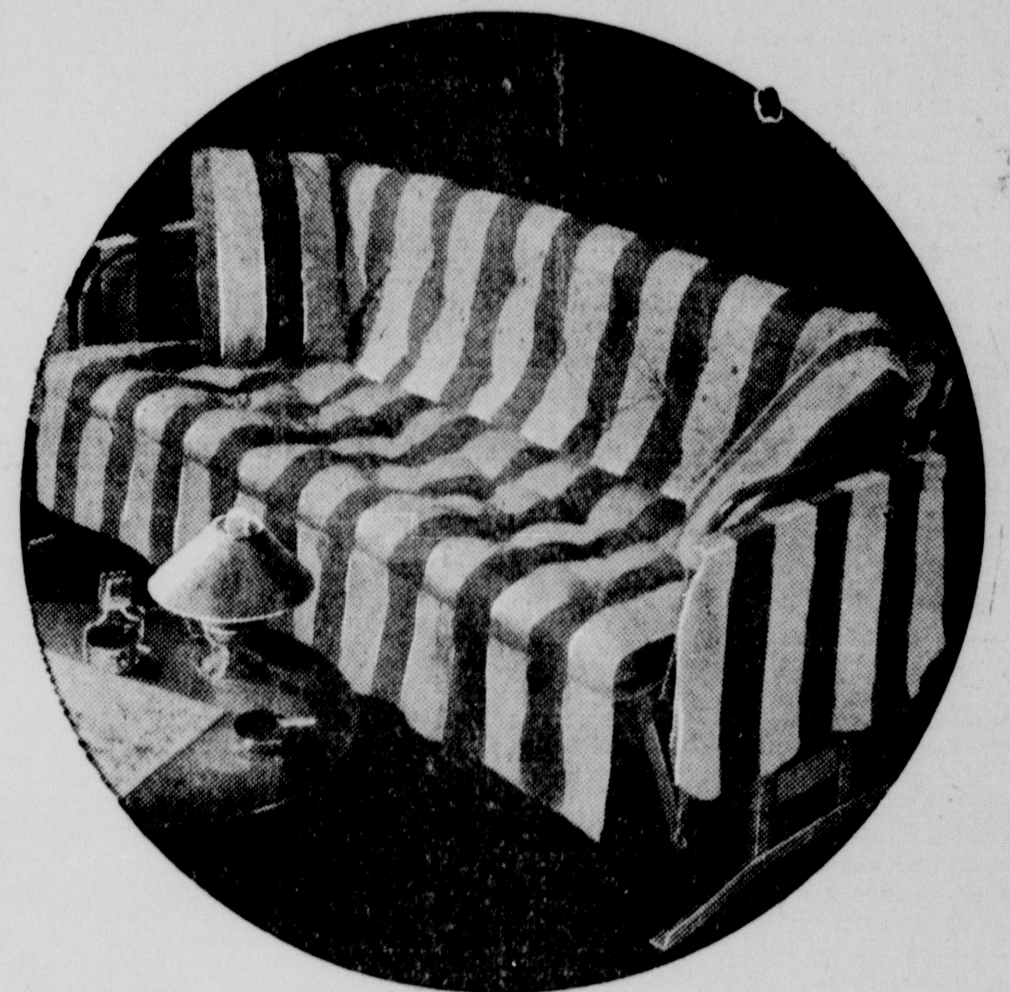

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Reagent's substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co

Why shouldn't I say nice things about Luckies?

I must confess that I enjoy smoking more and more. Maybe it's because I started with a cigarette that suits me right. Luckies are so very good. I like the fine taste of their tobaccos—and because I'm so sensitive to personal daintiness—for, after all, my cigarette touches my lips—I particularly welcome the added assurance of purity which "Toasting" affords. Whenever I hear comments about cigarettes—I always say, "But Luckies are different." And then I would say some nice things about "Toasting." To hear me you'd think that I discovered "Toasting"—but that's just my way. I like to root for things that please me. And certainly—"Luckies Please!"

SECRETARY DERN DEDICATED LAKES- GULF WATERWAY

Dream Of Marquette, Jojette Realized In Today's Fete

Chicago, June 22—(AP)—Salient facts about the Illinois waterway dedicated today by the Secretary of War:

Extent—Sixty miles, Lockport to near Utica, Ill.

Size—Channels 10 feet deep and 200 feet or more wide.

Cost—$102,500,000.

Total fall—139 feet.

Locks and dams—Starved Rock; Marseilles; Dresden Island; Brandon Road; Lockport.

Capacity—9000 tons a lockage; 500,000 tons a day.

Connections—With lower Illinois river at Utica and with Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal at Lockport, joining the Great Lakes with the Mississippi system.

Chicago, June 22—(AP)—Two hundred and sixty years ago weary white travelers, threading their way through virgin waters, dreamed of a route by which they would be able to sail from the great Mississippi system into the Lakes—a vision which only now is becoming real.

The wooded, desolate lands they looked upon have since become the site of one of man's largest industrial spots. Huge buildings, factories, thoroughfares and miles of railroad track have been placed upon the ground and almost five million people have come to live there.

But the dream of Pere Marquette, Louis Joliet and others of the explorers who wished they did not have to carry canoes across the Chicago portage remained unfulfilled until today.

Government's Work
Government of the great builder, made this dream of the early Frenchmen of a Gulf-to-ocean water route come true.

Secretary of War Dern today was to dedicate the Illinois waterway, 100 years from the day Chicago was chartered and 260 years removed from the wilderness that Marquette saw.

The dedication forged the final link in a chain of canal, river and lake developments that leads from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to the mouth of the Mississippi.

Marquette called the river he traveled the "St. Louis." He spoke of the large lake to which he had to travel on foot as "the lake of Illinois." He dreamed that they some day should be united.

More than $100,000,000 was required to harness the sometimes treacherous and never reliable upper Illinois river.

The waterway is 96 miles long, including 36 miles in and near Chicago made up by the Chicago river, the Sanitary and Ship canal, it comprises four giant pools, made in the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers and five locks and dams, and has an estimated maximum navigation capacity of 9000 tons per lockage, 500,000 tons a day of 9,000,000 tons a month.

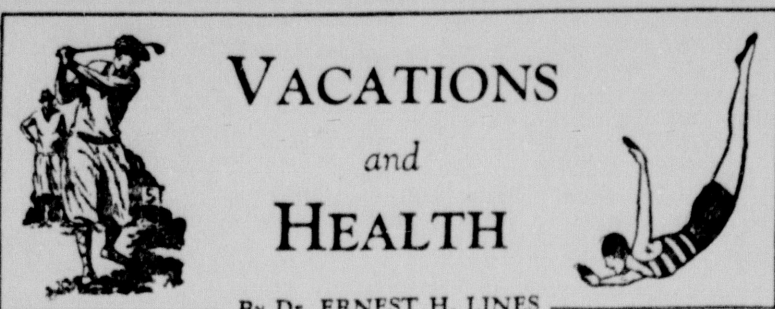

Sharkey Sets Ten Rounds As Limit

Lorangeburg, N. Y., June 22—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, once more the furious, venomous fighter in the ring and the "Garulous Gob" out of it, has put a ten round limit on his 15-round title defense against Primo Carnera June 29.

"You saw that," he said yesterday after battering two of his sparring partners around the ring yesterday. "You saw me winging 'em, eh? Well, you guessed what it means, all right."

"I'll show them how old I am. Ten rounds is about all it will take. I had Carnera down the last time I fought him. He won't get up this time. Ten, do you hear me?"

CHILDREN IN SUMMER MONTHS

FOR children, the summer months are playtime. Free from the tasks of the schoolroom, they look forward eagerly to the games and pleasures of the vacation period. But intelligent and careful planning for the holidays is as essential for children as for adults. Since the routine of school health educators is suspended, full responsibility for health falls on the shoulders of parents.

The vacation period of the average city child is usually spent with adult relatives at summer resorts, at organized camps, or in the year-round city environment. It is the unfortunate children who spend the last type of vacation who require the closest supervision.

They should be particularly warned against over-exertion and heat prostration, against eating foods handled by street vendors, and against the dangers of accident from automobiles. The most tragic aspect of the child's vacation period is the increased number of avoidable accidents to children due to the failure of parents and children to carry on the safety campaign waged throughout the school year.

Although swimming is excellent exercise for children, particularly since it teaches them how to take care of themselves in the water, care should be taken to avoid the pollution of "the old swimming hole." Children who go to summer camps should be examined in advance by the family physician and a record should be sent to the camp authorities so they may regulate the child's activities in accordance with his physical condition.

Explosions

Many accidents to children occur from the explosion of dynamite caps left lying around vacant houses, summer cottages and other places.

EDSON WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

A. J. Doud, manager of the Prescott (Arizona) Journal-Miner, says:

"The major problem today of merchandising is to get action into sales. A sales plan created now must bring in the results within a week it must ring cash registers instead of merely putting the name of a product or firm in the subconscious mind."

"In yesteryears our population made up a country of buyers; put any brand name before them long enough and they would give the product a trial. Today, as never before, the same people must be sold. Returns from one sales promotion are needed this week to finance next week's promotional efforts."

"Newspaper advertising is 'action' advertising. Personifying the word 'now' it calls for action today; the same message has reached thousands of others in the city or town. With retailers often short on sizes due to depleted stocks, smart buyers take advantage of opportunities while they exist."

"Newspaper advertising localizes the title expression 'at your dealer' found so often in national copy. In Prescott, that phrase in a newspaper advertisement tells readers that the product is actually stocked in Prescott stores—not merely in the retail establishments of some far away city."

"Newspapers are 'NOW' media for advertisers who want their results 'NOW'."

TEXT OF HULL'S RESOLUTION FOR TARIFF REMOVAL

Was Introduced In The World Economic Conference Today

London, June 22—(AP)—An announcement from headquarters of the American delegation at the world economic conference today described a resolution introduced before the conference by Secretary of State Hull as "designed to lay the foundations for a gradual reduction and removal of artificial barriers to trade."

The resolution, which the announcement said was introduced by authority of the American delegation and on instructions of the United States government, read: "Whereas the various nations have been constrained on one hand to impose restrictions upon imports in the nature of tariffs, quotas, embargoes, etc., and on the other hand by subsidized exports."

And whereas this tendency has resulted in nationalistic action in all nations, which, if carried to the logical conclusion, will result in almost complete elimination in international trade and return to medieval isolation;

Whereas it is agreed that this tendency must be arrested if world recovery is to be achieved and a decent standard of living is to be widely maintained;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that all the nations participating in this conference agree;

First, that it is against the common interest for any nation to adopt or continue a policy of extreme nationalism and to raise additional trade barriers and discriminations;

Second, that embargoes, import quotas, and various other arbitrary restrictions should be removed completely as quickly as possible; and

Third, that tariff barriers should be reduced as quickly as possible by reciprocal bi-lateral agreements or by multi-lateral agreements to the point where trade can once more move in a free and normal manner; and

Fourth, that care should be taken in making bi-lateral or multi-lateral agreements not to introduce discriminatory measures, which, while providing an advantage to contracting parties, would react disadvantageously upon world trade as a whole.

LOUGHRAN WINS CLOSE VERDICT OVER S. HAMAS

Veteran Philadelphia
Boxer Staged Fine
Come Back Fight

New York, June 22—(AP)—Tommy Loughran, the old master of ring strategy, is back in the fistie limelight again. He no longer is regarded as a contender for championships of any kind, but after being regarded as "all through" a half dozen times since he was knocked out by Jack Sharkey four years ago, he has returned to the "big time" and big crowds with a ten round decision over his old rival, Steve Hamas.

Carrying on a quiet campaign, Tommy staged perhaps the greatest comeback of them all before 10,500 excited fans at the Yankee Stadium last night. For eight rounds he barely staved off the rushes of the fiery Wallington, N. J., youngster, absorbing quiet a bit of punishment. He gave Hamas a lesson in the use of the straight arm such as Steve never received on the Penn State football field, poking his left into Hamas' face with almost monotonous regularity, but that wasn't quite enough.

Then in the ninth, bleeding from cuts over both eyes and apparently not far from a knockout, Loughran suddenly switched from boxing to fighting. He rocked Hamas' head back with hard rights and lefts, slugged and swatted on even terms.

and won the last two rounds and a close decision.

Loughran weighed 186 pounds, Hamas 187 1/2.

World production of automobiles in 1932 totaled 1,979,250 units, of which 69.3 per cent were produced in the United States.

DEMOCRATS ARE LINING UP DEEP AT PIE COUNTER

25,000 New Jobs Will Be Given Deserving By Farley

Washington, June 22—(AP)—Deserving Democrats, lined up ten deep at the federal pie counter, will see hundreds and thousands of jobs apportioned soon after President Roosevelt returns from his vacation, but to get them for themselves may have to meet an insistent demand that they measure up on the merit score.

Directors of new federal enterprises in which most of the jobs are to be created are declaring that political support will get applicants nowhere unless they qualify as genuinely expert at the tasks to be filled.

But James A. Farley, Postmaster General and patronage arbiter, is being besieged with increasing pressure by Senators and Representatives and committeemen whose constituents have until now been stalled off. A special committee of Representatives, recently set up to push Farley, is now exceedingly active scouting out job possibilities both under the new industrial, public works, relief farm and other emergency acts of the last Congress, and in the existing departments and agencies of government.

Estimates of the number of jobs to be available run as high as 25,000 or 30,000.

Farley expects early appointment of Collectors of Internal Revenue and District Attorneys, Marshals and Customs Collectors, all customarily party jobs. Since announcement that Republican Postmasters will not be ousted before their terms end, so long as their service is satisfactory, he has been swamped with complaints and demands for investigation of this postmaster and that.

Nelson Team Wins From Sterling Nine

The Nelson Cardinals defeated the Sterling Athletics Sunday afternoon by a score of 20 to 9 at the Eberly field north of Nelson. Ortigiesen was on the mound for the Cards and allowed but three hits, striking out 13 batters. Dietz and Mills, old the pitching for Sterling. Reed was the leading hitter for the Cards, getting a home run, a triple with a double and two walks in five times at the plate. Morris of the Athletics also recorded a homer and Bohken of the Cards was credited with a circuit blow. Dietz, Mills and Kozier formed the battery for the visitors, while Ortigiesen and M. Gale performed for the Cardinals. Fredericks and Costello were the umpires.

What Makes a Safe Tire? I KNOW!

ARE you willing to risk your life on advertising statements claiming blowout-proof and unblowable tires? One manufacturer gives as the reason for claiming blowout-proof tires—the use of one ply of another color—another, a patented "no breaker" construction—a mail order house, high stretch "elastic" cords, etc., etc. Actually the fundamental cause of a tire blowout is the flexing of the tire which causes friction of the fibers in the cord, resulting in heat and causing the rubber to soften and the cords to deteriorate.

There is a reason why Firestone Tires have won the 500-mile Indianapolis race for 14 consecutive years, the most gruelling tire test. The reason is the Firestone patented extra process of Gum-Dipping which saturates every fiber and insulates every cord with pure rubber—which gives strength to the cords and prevents friction and heat in the fibers. This year 42 drivers in this race equipped their cars with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and not a single driver had any tire trouble.

Race drivers know why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are safer and not subject to blowout and will not risk their lives on ordinary tires. Your life and the lives of your family are often in danger at the high road speeds of today and you should not take greater risks than the race drivers who make sure that they have the best and safest tires they can buy—Firestone. Come in today. We will give you a liberal trade-in allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires—the safest tires in the World.

Then we have two lessons in which Jesus rebukes self-seeking. The story of the rich young man who came to Jesus and who went away sorrowful because of his great possessions is one that finely indicates the ultimate nature of the Christian life and its obligations.

The remaining stories of the quarter tell how Jesus himself was not free from this obligation of giving himself fully to his mission of salvation. It is a story of temporary triumph in which we have the pageant of his advent into Jerusalem while the throngs cried "Hosanna," and spread their garments in the way. But even in these hours of seeming triumph Jesus knew that the shadow of the cross was over him.

We have in one lesson a beautiful picture of Jesus among his disciples in the closing days, but it is followed by the dark picture of his betrayal and his denial.

Then comes the climax of the lessons, as the climax of the life and work of Jesus himself, in the lesson dealing with the Crucifixion and the last lesson, with the story of the visit of the women at the tomb and the Resurrection.

The Gospel of Mark is distinguished even among the picturesque, and beautiful writings of the New Testament for its simplicity and its directness.

Many scholars have supposed it to be the first of our Gospels to be written. Its author wastes no words, nor does he go unduly into secondary incidents. His great direct purpose is to set forth the supreme facts and truths in the story concerning Jesus of Nazareth and he has done that in such a way that his simple story has lasted throughout the centuries, and will go on with its inspiring message concerning the Savior of Men for centuries to come.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS, OUR LORD AND SAVIOR

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.

The lessons of the second quarter have continued the studies begun the first of the year in the Gospel of the Son of God as contained in the Book of Mark. The general theme of the first quarter was "Jesus, Our Example in Service," and of this second quarter is "Jesus, Our Lord and Savior."

We see Jesus in the opening lesson administering to Jews and Gentiles alike, healing the daughter of a Syro-phenician woman, and though he referred to the deep race prejudice that existed, showing by his acts that the Savior of Men was a savior of all, regardless of race or color.

In the second lesson we find Jesus reminding those who had followed him that they must count everything but loss for the sake of his Kingdom and the Gospel.

In the third lesson the story of the Transfiguration suggested the experiences of exaltation that are often necessary in the Christian way, the ecstasy by which the soul is warmed and faith restored in times of doubt and discouragement.

Then we have two lessons in which Jesus rebukes self-seeking. The story of the rich young man who came to Jesus and who went away sorrowful because of his great possessions is one that finely indicates the ultimate nature of the Christian life and its obligations.

The remaining stories of the quarter tell how Jesus himself was not free from this obligation of giving himself fully to his mission of salvation. It is a story of temporary triumph in which we have the pageant of his advent into Jerusalem while the throngs cried "Hosanna," and spread their garments in the way. But even in these hours of seeming triumph Jesus knew that the shadow of the cross was over him.

We have in one lesson a beautiful picture of Jesus among his disciples in the closing days, but it is followed by the dark picture of his betrayal and his denial.

Then comes the climax of the lessons, as the climax of the life and work of Jesus himself, in the lesson dealing with the Crucifixion and the last lesson, with the story of the visit of the women at the tomb and the Resurrection.

The Gospel of Mark is distinguished even among the picturesque, and beautiful writings of the New Testament for its simplicity and its directness.

Many scholars have supposed it to be the first of our Gospels to be written. Its author wastes no words, nor does he go unduly into secondary incidents. His great direct purpose is to set forth the supreme facts and truths in the story concerning Jesus of Nazareth and he has done that in such a way that his simple story has lasted throughout the centuries, and will go on with its inspiring message concerning the Savior of Men for centuries to come.

By BILL BRAUCHER

The Merry-Go-Round

Have you ever tried to figure out who is the heavyweight wrestling champion?

Materials necessary are. An up-to-date volume of logarithms, five quire of scratch paper, a gross of pencils, a wig to replace hair pulled out by the roots, and a nice, quiet padded cell in which to re-possess the remainder of your days.

Just to give you an illustration—Jim Browning and Don George were recently on the Pacific coast howling for the title. Jim claimed the honors because of his victory over Strangled Lewis early in the year. Previously, Lewis had defeated Jack Sherry and Ray Steele in an elimination tournament for the title when London refused to place his crown in jeopardy.

George presented his arguments by going way back to that old honest fellow, George Hackenschmidt, the first champ. He pointed out that Frank Gotch beat Hackenschmidt in 1908, and in turn lost the title to Chuck Cutler in 1913. Cutler held the honors until 1915, when he lost to Joe Stecher, who was finally drubbed by Ed Lewis in 1928.

And So On

Then, George continues, Sonnenberg came along and copped the title by defeating Lewis in 1929. George then won the title himself by defeating Sonnenberg in 1930, and lost it when Lewis defeated him the following year. Finally, Henri de Giane defeated Lewis, and George defeated de Giane to again win the crown.

Canzoneri, Ross Awaiting The Bell

Chicago, June 22—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, the champion, and Barry Ross, the challenger, today settled down to wait for their battle for the world lightweight title tomorrow night in the Chicago Stadium, while activity at the box office increased.

A sudden change to more moderate temperatures yesterday brought in enough orders to indicate an attendance of 16,000 or more at Chicago's most important fight since Canzoneri successfully defended his title against Jack (Kid) Berg more than two years ago.

Ross has done most of his training in secret, while the champion has been on display during his workouts. However, Ross may enter the ring against the titleholder at even money. The odds favored Canzoneri at 2 to 1, until yesterday when they dwindled to 7 to 5.

Air travel between London and Paris for the first three months of 1933 showed an increase of 60 per cent over the same period of 1932.

But there's a couple of other fellows who enter the picture—Jim London and Joe Savoldi.

Savoldi, you know, beat London in that one-fall match in Chicago a short time ago. He claimed the title after that somewhat uncertain win even though London denied he was defeated, and stated that he couldn't lose his crown because the match wasn't one of those two-out-of-three affairs.

Where Are You Now?

Then after that rather shady affair, Joe took on Jim Browning in a supposed titular affair in New York. After grimacing and grunting around the ring to the expressed displeasure of the crowd, the match was stopped and awarded to Browning.

Jim promptly took a new stronghold on the title, but Savoldi refused to give it up, and still claims it. Browning, George, London, Savoldi—So what?

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The Pacific Coast's Babe Ruth is Ray Jacobs, who covers first base for the Hollywood club of the Coast league. He's ahead of Rogers Hornsby in the matter of homers blasted out of the lot this year, having 22 to his credit. George Burns, manager of Seattle, and former major leaguer, is also ahead of Ruth. He has 16 circuit smashes to his credit. The record for the Coast league is 60, set by Paul Strand in 1914. They're saying that the "rabbit ball" now used is responsible for the increased base blows in the western circles.

ELEVENTH HOUR TRADES APPEAR TO HAVE HELPED

Transferred Players Are Doing Well For New Owners

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

Associated Press Sports Writer
The last minute trades by which several National League clubs endeavored to gain strength for the mid-season struggles appear, at first glance, to have panned out exceedingly well.

Notable among them was the switch which sent Lefty O'Doul to the New York Giants and Sam Leslies to the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Boston-Philadelphia deal, involving Pinky Whitney, Hal Lee, Wes Schulmerich and Fritz Knote also seems to have been beneficial to both teams.

O'Doul, who wasn't hitting at all with the Dodgers, again made himself an important figure with the bat yesterday when, for the second time since the June 15 trade, he paced the New Yorkers to a victory that helped them hold the lead in the elder circuit. Lefty made two hits as the Giants downed the Chicago Cubs 3-1 in a brilliant mound duel between Fred Fitzsimmons and Pat Malone, and one was a home run that put New York ahead to stay.

Leslie's clouting already has won a couple of games for the Dodgers but he couldn't do much yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals, after giving away five runs in the first inning, came back to win 7-5 and remain a half game behind the Giants.

Whitney In New Job

Whitney, the leading figure in the trade between the Braves and the Phillies, got a new job at second base yesterday when the veteran Rabbit Maranville was benched and Dick Gyselman was put in at third. He not only filled the bill ably but he walloped three hits and batted in five runs as the Braves took both ends of a double header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5 and 5-3.

The Phils' new acquisitions Schulmerich and Knote, batted in six of the ten runs Philadelphia scored in the sixth and seventh innings to beat Cincinnati 10-8.

In the American League, Washington, 9; Chicago, 0. Cleveland 11, Philadelphia, 1. Boston, 10-3; Detroit, 9-5. New York, 5; St. Louis, 3. (13 innings.)

Expect Big Crowd To See Ring Show At Maples Tonight

Prospects for cooler weather this evening are expected to add to the attendance at the first of a weekly series of outdoor boxing shows to be held under the auspices of the Dixon Athletic Club during the summer months at their Crawford Maples arena east of the city on the Lincoln Highway. Every effort has been made to make every bout a real feature and the fans of Dixon and vicinity are assured a lively program.

The Quinn McCann-Danny Steer bout, fifth on the evening's bill, and the first of the double-windup series, promises to be most interesting. At 122 pounds, both contestants are hard hitters and for some time matchmakers have been trying to sign the pair for a meeting. McCann hails from Rock Island while Danny Steer, who has been seen in action here on previous showings, comes from Peoria.

Local fans are not losing sight of the home-town battlers, Young Doty, Eddie Carlson and Ray Wilson. Matchmaker Ed Hooker has slated some tough customers to appear against the Dixon talent during the evening. Wilson will step into the ring in the first bout opposing Farmer Williams of Rock Island at 155 pounds. The first bout will be called at 8:30 with Jack Sharkey refereeing.

COMMITTEE NOT WELCOME IN ILL. MINING SECTORS

Civil Liberties Union Investigators Told To Leave District

St. Louis, June 22 —(AP)—Asserting his investigating committee had been "manhandled and deported" from the southern Illinois mine "war" sector, Roger Baldwin, Director of the American Civil Liberties Union, today expressed determination to continue intervention activities.

Baldwin with four associates returned to St. Louis late last night after a motor car tour of the district, and declared the party had been detained by Deputy Sheriffs in DuQuoin, Ill., escorted from town and told to "get the hell out of here."

Chief of Police Lloyd Pyle of DuQuoin said he knew nothing of the reported occurrence. The Sheriff's office at Piquetteville, county seat of Perry county, also said no report of the matter had been made there.

Baldwin, who has headquarters in New York, addressed a mass meeting in Gillespie, Ill., Tuesday night, declared federal intervention would be sought if county officers continued to disregard the right of peaceful assemblage.

Meenings Banned
Public meetings have been banned in several counties as a result of trouble between the Progressive Miners of America and the United Mine Workers, warring factions in the area. Officers assert the holding of meetings, by any group might result in bloodshed. Numerous persons have been killed in the wage dispute and clashes have been frequent.

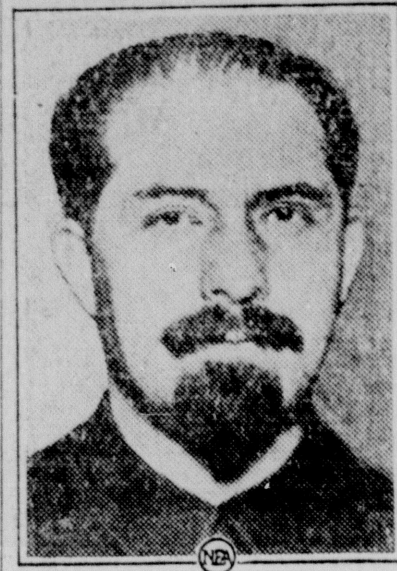

Baldwin was accompanied on his tour yesterday by Prof. James N. Yard, recently of Northwestern University; the Rev. Raymond A. Sanford, Chicago minister; Thos. McKenna, Executive Secretary of the Chicago Civil Liberties Committee, and Walter Burch, St. Louis attorney.

"We stopped our car at DuQuoin, intending to stop for dinner," Baldwin said in describing the DuQuoin incident. "A man who said he was a Deputy Sheriff grabbed my arm and said, 'You're not going to stop here.'"

Threatened Arrest
"We're going to arrest you for stirring up trouble at DuQuoin."

"Previous to our arrival at DuQuoin, Deputy Sheriffs had broken up a meeting of Progressive Miners here. We knew nothing about the meeting and had nothing to do

"After searching each of us and the car, and holding us prisoners for about an hour, the deputies about eight in number, escorted us five miles from town and told us to 'get out of here and stay out or you'll get beaten up.'"

"Our party was entirely neutral in this entry into the southern Illinois mine area. We saw all parties to the conflict equally, both officials of the United Mine Workers and the Progressives.

"If a group of professional men, engaged on such a peaceful mission can be manhandled and deported, it is not difficult to figure out the state of official lawlessness under which the district lives.

"Legal action against such men appears impossible now, but we propose to utilize every other legal means open, not for redress to us, but to break down this lawless system."

CHANGES IN FARM CREDIT AGENCIES ARE TO BE MADE

New Farm Credit Administrator Announces Some Of Plans

Washington, June 22 —(AP)—Numerous changes in organization of federal agricultural credit agencies—and many in personnel—will be made in the next three months by Governor Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of the Farm Credit Administration.

His goal is to put farm credit on a cooperative basis. Though establishing a limited mutual responsibility he hopes to lessen the risks, make saleable at lower interest rates securities backed by farm property and thus make farm credit available at lower rates.

The most important organizational changes will be made in the 12 cities where Federal Land Banks are now located—Springfield, Massachusetts; Baltimore, Columbia; South Carolina; Louisville, St. Louis; New Orleans; St. Paul; Omaha; Wichita, Kansas; Houston;

Berkeley, Cal. and Spokane. The Federal Land Banks and

Intermediate Credit Banks located in each will be joined by two new credit units, a "Bank for Cooperatives," and a "Production Credit Corporation."

To Work Jointly
Jointly the four units will be known as the "Farm Credit Administration," with an agent in charge representing Morgenthau. The agent will pass on matters which ordinarily would be referred to Washington.

Each of the four divisions will have a president to be chosen by the Board of Directors succeeding the group which now has control of land and intermediate credit banks. Morgenthau will select a majority of the board members.

Each also will be under the direction of a Commissioner at Washington, responsible to Morgenthau. Francis W. Peck of St. Paul has been appointed Cooperative Loan Commissioner and will set up the banks for cooperatives; A. S. Goss of Seattle will become Land Bank Commissioner July 1, and George M. Brennan of Berkeley, Cal., is Intermediate Credit Bank Commissioner.

A Production Credit Commissioner remains to be chosen.

Count Love Worth More Than Crown

Over the bitter opposition of his father Alfonso XIII, former King of Spain, Alfonso, 26, Prince of Asturias, has renounced his claim to the Spanish throne so that he may wed Senorita Elizardo San Pedro, 27, daughter of a Cuban merchant. GLY-CAS' ACTION SURPRISED LADY Rheumatism and Indigestion Quickly Conquered by New Remedy After Suffering Most of Her Life.

"Since I have been taking Gly-Cas it is easy to understand why so many people are praising it so highly," said Mrs. Eugene Lester.

1749 Penn St., Mason City, Iowa.

"Without a doubt Gly-Cas is the greatest remedy I have ever taken. Most of my life indigestion and rheumatism bothered me continually. After such pains in my stomach after eating that I was hardly able to stand it, and the rheumatism made me most miserable. But Gly-Cas was most miraculous in helping me in spite of all the other medicines that had failed to help me. It is the truth when I say I have just finished my first box of Gly-Cas and haven't had a touch of rheumatism for over a week. Stomach and bowels regulated, they never bother me and I am feeling fine again."

Gly-Cas is sold by Campbell's White Cross Pharmacy, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

RAILROAD HEADS YIELD TO PLEAS OF GOVERNMENT

Agree To Postpone Any Further Wage Cuts Until June '34

Washington, June 22.—(AP)—Railroads have heeded plea of the administration to postpone until June 30, 1934, a proposed new 12 1/2 per cent pay cut for their workers.

As a result, organized railroad labor until the middle of next year will continue to work on the present schedule—the old basic wage, less 10 per cent. By that time government and railroads both hope all need for pay cuts will be passed.

This agreement between railroad managers and labor executives was the first big achievement of Joseph B. Eastman since he became Coordinator of Transportation. When he "officially" stepped in, the situation was this:

Rail labor, under an agreement reached last December and operative until next November 1, had been working for wages fixed in January, 1932, less 10 per cent. Railroads decided an additional 12 1/2 per cent cut should be levied. Unsuccessful conferences between employee and employer were held. The whole thing was a threat to uninterrupted transportation service.

Proposal Accepted
Then Eastman met the railroad managers and labor executives. He asked them to delay action until the effect of the administration's recovery program could be seen. His proposal was accepted after two more days of conferences.

That agreement, said Eastman, was "reached because both the railroads and the employees wish to do nothing which would in any way embarrass or threaten the present policy of the administration."

"They realize," he added, "that the government has now embarked upon a wholly new policy designed to promote business and industrial activity, and that is considered just a formality."

The concord must yet be ratified by individual unions belonging to the Railway Labor Executives' Association, but that is considered just a formality.

SPRINGFIELD—The state Capitol was freed of troops that had been on patrol duty since the slaying of one man and the wounding of 10 others during a riot June 7.

CHICAGO—Assurance that Prince Olaf and Crown Princess Martha of Norway would come to Chicago in September for the dedication of the Leif Erikson Memorial was contained in a letter received here from the private secretary to King Haakon VII of Norway.

CHICAGO—Lyman D. Glasscock, Elwood, was one of the prize winners named among exhibitors at the National Penny Show at the World's Fair. The grand prize and the Farr gold medal went to A. M. Brand, Faribault, Minn., for his new variety of peony, the Hansena brand.

OTTAWA—D. H. Goodwillie, Toledo, O., vice president and general manager of the Liberty, Owens, Ford Company, said the Ottawa plant would be reopened partially by July 15 and that if business continued to improve it would be in full operation by September.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARRETT COLVIN, back to New York after four years, meets 20-year-old ELLINOR STAFFORD and falls in love with her. Barrett is 35, wealthy and has made a name for himself as an archeologist.

Ellinor's beautiful mother, LIDA STAFFORD, has kept the girl in the background, wanting attention for herself. Lida is carrying on a flirtation with VANCE CARTER and is constantly scheming to keep in the good graces of MISS ELLA SEXTON, her husband's aunt, in order to inherit a share of the Sexton fortune. Ellinor hates this hypocrisy.

Barrett's half-sister, MARCIA RADNOR, is terrified for fear her husband will learn of an unfortunate episode in her past. Years before Barrett shielded Marcia when a youthful romance ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. The boy is nine years old now. Marcia insists that if her husband learns the truth he will never forgive her.

HAROLD DEXTER, the boy's tutor, threatens blackmail. Barrett, hinting at knowledge of Dexter's past call of which is bluff, frightens the man into promising he will not make trouble.

Barrett takes Ellinor Stafford for a drive. Each time he sees her she seems more charming.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

BENTWELL STAFFORD sat before the fire, flushed and heavy eyed. The usual decanter and glass were beside him on a small table within easy reach. For the first time that he could remember Ellinor had not greeted him as he came in. Although the homecoming had left him hollow it warmed him, too. He hoped that she was out with some young people having a good time. The fact that she had so few good times made his eyes fill with those tears that rise easily from alcohol.

A little stir at the door made him turn to see Ellinor, her eyes bright and shining.

"Well, child"—he offered in a rasping, low voice after the cough that was habitual.

"Dear!" she exclaimed. She came forward swiftly, stooped and kissed him, then settled on a low stool at his feet.

Her father studied her. She was beautiful—rarely, undoubtedly beautiful. He didn't see how even the dull eyes could miss that fact.

"And what?" he asked. It was a nightly ritual, one that had started back in the days when it prompted a history of her play hours and of how she had done at lessons.

"I had a ride," she replied. She was staring into the fire and trying not to smile. He saw her set her teeth on the lower lip which would turn upward, saw the dreaming languor of her eyes.

"Um!" Stafford reached for the decanter to pour another drink. He had always known it would hurt when it came; but he had never sensed the depths of the hurt. And yet he wanted Ellinor to fall in love, to be happy and settled in a home of her own. Odd how reason and instinct quarreled! He slipped his bracer, set down the glass and spoke. "And who took you riding?"

"Mr. Colvin—Mr. Barrett Colvin."

"Thought perhaps you'd gone with Bob Telfair—"

"Oh, no!"

"Like him, don't you?"

"Yes, I like him but—"

"But what?" Stafford prompted.

How had anything so beautiful come to him and to Lida? So beautiful spiritually as well as physically? He never had been able to make it out.

"Well," she explained slowly, "I like him as a very good friend. You know he's helped me a lot with Cousin Philip, going to see him when I couldn't manage to because of Mother and the way she feels. He's been a very good friend!" she ended loyally.

"Yes, I know. Poor young devil! Well, what about Colvin? You like him?"

"Very much." The response came low.

"Hum—" Bentwell again little his glass.

"I had the most wonderful afternoon I've ever had in my whole life!" she confessed.

Bentwell had known it would come to her in that way; that she was built to give a whole heart and not a cautious inch of it. Suppose Colvin were damned fool enough not to realize that which was offered him?

"Do you know Mr. Colvin, Father?" she asked. She wanted to talk of Colvin, he saw. There had been a time years ago when he had wanted to talk of Lida in the same way. The time had been short, as Lida was orphaned and alone and they had married quickly. Soon after marriage he had not wanted to talk of her nor even to think of her. Ellinor had his capacity for dreaming. She must not be hurt!

"I know him fairly well," he responded in his slow way. "His family have lived across the street from Aunt Ella for more years than even I can remember. While I was still on the leash I used to be dragged there and Colvin and his sister ran in often. He's a good chap, I understand, but they say he's a hard-boiled bachelor. I think a good many women have tried to marry him. The Colvin fortune is considerable, you know."

SHE flushed at the words.

"I'm not going to try to marry him," Ellinor admitted honestly and a trifle loudly. "But if he wanted to marry me—he'd have to do more than snap his fingers or whistle!" She tried to make a joke of it, laughing, but she could not. After the failure she covered her face for a moment with her hands.

"Suppose," Stafford said slowly, "he hasn't sense enough to know how lovely you are? Suppose he's as blind as so many damned fools?"

"Then I suppose I'll know I wasn't—nice enough."

"Don't!" Her father begged. Ellinor slipped her hand into his and looked at the decanter. He had already had a good deal; more even than was usual. "We must play chess after dinner," she said, eyes still on the decanter.

"I'd like to but I don't want to bore you, baby."

"But I'd love it! You know I love it. Father, when is Mother going?" Her voice was suddenly anxious.

"They start, I believe, tomorrow morning."

"Then—that's all right!" she said quickly, happily. She didn't want Mr. Colvin to meet her mother until she, Ellinor, had had a little chance. She wouldn't have any chance at all if he met her mother, Ellinor knew. It had happened before with every young man who had been attracted by Ellinor, except Bobby Telfair who had remained adamant under her mother's attacks. The attacks were made, the girl understood, in order that a selfish woman might prove the fact that she could attract and enchant and rule wherever and whenever she wished. The thought of this had never before really mattered to Ellinor. Now it did.

Benson appeared in the doorway just then to announce that dinner was served.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington — What most political observers in Washington thought would happen, unless the President succeeded in persuading congress to adjourn before the London economic conference had begun, did happen.

Delegates to the world parley had hardly taken their seats before an explosion was heard in Washington in the senate as a result of the opening day's proceedings across the Atlantic. Ramsay MacDonald's injection of the question of war debts in his opening remarks to the conference had an immediate repercussion in the Capitol City.

TRANS-ATLANTIC CUE—

It had been freely predicted that there would be trouble of congress had not wound up its work before the London conference was convened or before the June war debt payments fell due.

MacDonald's speech gave senators their first opportunity to speak their minds. Two Republican Senators—Fess of Ohio and Robinson of Indiana—with the democratic Lewis of Illinois got into the fray.

It was perhaps inevitable that this should happen and but natural, therefore, that such an opponent of tampering with the war debt question in any fashion as Robinson of Indiana would be heard from at the slightest opportunity. MacDonald's speech gave a perfect opening.

This development produced an outright suggestion on the floor of the senate that if the war debt question continued to be pushed, the American delegation should sail for home immediately. That was the suggestion made by the Indiana senator in his attack.

A TIGHT SPOT—

The situation is a difficult one no matter which way you look at it. The December payments will be due before congress is convened in regular session next January.

The crux of the whole thing seems to be that while the President may have the power to negotiate revision of the war debts, there are some who deny his right to accept a part payment from debtor nations. And part payment or "token" payments have been much in the news lately.

If, as some contend, token payments amount to default and Prime Minister MacDonald's assertion that war debts must be part of the agenda at London, then the effect on the economic conference is not hard to figure out.

WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough is in terms of mortality, morbidity and the loss of school attendance, one of the most important and expensive epidemic diseases of childhood. There is associated with the disease a germ known as the Bordet-Gengou bacillus. Some say this germ is the actual cause of whooping cough. Others believe that the germ bears only a secondary relation to the disease, the primary cause being an undetermined filtrable virus.

Whooping cough is most contagious before the sufferer develops the paroxysmal cough which characterizes this disease.

In dealing with whooping cough, attempts have been made to establish methods for early diagnosis. One method is to collect droplets of sputum ejected by the coughing individual on a suitable culture medium, i. e., a substance on which germs can be made to grow.

The culture medium is incubated, i. e., kept at a temperature approximately that of the body, and the germs that develop thereon are examined. If the Bordet-Gengou bacillus is found, the case is considered whooping-cough.

Failure to discover these germs in such a test does not prove the case to be other than whooping cough.

The prevention of whooping cough in those exposed to the disease has been attempted, but results have not been encouraging. In this treatment, vaccines made of killed Bordet-Gengou bacilli have been employed.

From experience, it would appear that those who are treated with a prophylactic whooping cough vaccine may at times be protected against the disease.

The treatment of whooping cough lacks a specific. Drugs prove or lessen the severity of the attacks of paroxysmal cough, but good nutritional support, sunshine and an abundance of fresh air are most valuable parts of good treatment.
